

YOUR VOICE MATTERS

Take the Omaha Climate Action and Resilience Plan survey today.

The City of Omaha's Climate Action and Resilience Plan will be a strategic roadmap that empowers our community to build climate resilience and strive for a more sustainable future.

The Omaha Climate Action and Resilience Plan will provide comprehensive guidance on innovative solutions that will:

Improve quality of life

Build prosperity

Enhance community resilience

Further climate justice

The plan will focus on strategies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, prepare for and adapt to climate impacts, and remove carbon dioxide from the atmosphere through sequestration.

The Climate Action and Resilience Plan will provide equitable actions for the City, and the communities within, to implement over the next 30 years.

Take the Survey

We're gauging how you may already be feeling the impact of climate change in Omaha.

Spend 10 minutes sharing your thoughts on community climate needs and actions by taking the survey at:

[form.jotform.com/
mplshdrpi/omacapsurvey](https://form.jotform.com/mplshdrpi/omacapsurvey)

Get Involved

The development of the Omaha Climate Action and Resilience Plan is a collaborative effort – when it comes to our climate, we're all in this together. We're listening, and we need your input to develop a plan that works for Omaha. The City, its departments, community organizations, and you are critical partners on the Omaha Climate Action and Resilience Plan.

For more information, and to stay up-to-date on input opportunities, visit omacap.org.

